

॥ माण्डूक्योपनिषत् ॥

English Transliteration of the Introductory Verses from The Mandukya Upanishad

ॐ भद्रं कर्णेभिः शृणुयाम देवा

Om! Bhadram karnebhih s'rnuyama devah

भद्रं पश्येमाक्षभिर्यजत्राः

Bhadram pasyemakshabhiryajatrah

स्थिरैरङ्गैस्तुष्टुवाꣳ सस्तनूभिर्व्यशेम

Sthirairangaistushtuvamsastanubhirvyasema

देवहितं यदायुः ॥

Devahitam yadayuh

स्वस्ति न इन्द्रो वृद्धश्रवाः

Svasti na indro vridddhasravah

स्वस्ति नः पूषा विश्ववेदाः ।

Svasti nah pusha visvavedah

स्वस्ति नस्तार्क्ष्यो अरिष्टनेमिः

Svasti nastarkshyo arishtanemih

स्वस्ति नो बृहस्पतिर्दधातु ॥

Svasti no brihaspatirdadhatu

ॐ शान्तिः शान्तिः शान्तिः॥

Om Santih; Santih; Santih

English Translation

(Lords! inspiration of sacrifice!)

May our ears hear the good.

May our eyes see the good.

May we serve him with the whole strength of our body.

May we, all our life, carry out his will.

May Indra, of enhanced fame, be auspicious unto us.

May Pushan, who is all knowing, be auspicious unto us.

May Tarkshya, who is the destroyer of all evils, be auspicious unto us.

May Brihaspati bestow upon us auspiciousness.

Peace, peace, and peace be everywhere.

(Source: Unknown)

March 29, 2002