Travel to Pilani

Details at:

<http://www.bitspilani.ac.in:12346/bitsaa/route/roadmap.htm>

Pilani is located 220Km west of Delhi and about 240 Km East of Jaipur. The recommended mode of transportation is by Car. One can hire a taxi from Delhi or Jaipur. It takes less than 5 hours from Delhi or Jaipur to Pilani. The road condition varies from excellent to poor. There are some bad patches specially when one enters a village on the highway. One take the Delhi-Dadri-Loharu-Pilani route or the Delhi-Gurgaon-Rewari-Narnaul-Chirawa-Pilani route. Other longer routes, via Rohtak and Bhiwani, also exist.

Buses: It is connected via buses that leave from the ISBT bus stand in Delhi. Over a dozen buses ply between Delhi and Pilani each day and take less than 6 hours to reach Pilani. Regular bus service is also available from Jaipur to Pilani also.

Train: Several trains leave Delhi for Loharu and from Jaipur to Chirawa or Loharu. Pilani is about 20 Km from Loharu and 12 Km fro Chirawa. Taxis are available at the Loharu and Chirawa stations. However, it is best to inform BITS if you plan to arrive into Loharu and Chirawa and a car will be sent to bring you to Pilani
