Motivating Example

- How does functional modularity manifest itself in a network of molecular interactions?
  - Explore relationship between functional similarity and network proximity

- Functional annotations available for domains and proteins vastly differ
  - Do current similarity measures work in an unbiased manner (due to incompleteness of annotation)?
  - Are they statistically meaningful and biologically interpretable?