

Figure 19.1 Illustration of a VPN that uses encryption when sending data across the global Internet between two routers at two sites of an organization.