control and configure SDN module packet processing and forwarding

External Controller

SDN software

control plane

data plane

General-purpose computer (e.g., PC running Linux) original interface (now unneeded)

network device

path data follows

Figure 28.3 The basic SDN architecture with an external controller configuring classification and forwarding hardware in a network device.